

- Public Housing: Temporary public housing when pursuing education, transitioning between jobs or regions, engaging in retraining, holding public office, or during periods of disability, recovery or medical treatment.
- Member-Owned Banking: No more privately owned banks; no more privatize profits with socialized risks; no more high-risk speculative instruments.
- Public Monetary System & Macroeconomic Stability: Monetary system styled after the Chicago Plan (see “The Chicago Plan Revisited” at <http://www.imf.org/external/pubs/ft/wp/2012/wp12202.pdf>), and a favoring of a stable exchange rate and independent monetary policy over free capital flows.
- Fundamental Scientific Research
- Public Mail & Shipping Service
- Reintegration, Rehabilitation & Training for All Non-Violent Criminals

In conclusion, all such facets of profit – including many not yet explored – will be revisiting and adjusting according to real-world conditions. However, there is no reason to doubt humanity's continued capacity to reinvent itself in response to new knowledge, environments, technologies and systems of governance. In the spirit of Elinor Ostrom's research on Common Pool Resource Management, we will design criteria that prove the most effective over time, and initiate community-level pilot projects to test those assumptions with broader and more comprehensive scope. In fact, why couldn't there be multiple pilot efforts that compete with each other for reliability, scalability, sustainability and so forth? Regardless of the past a theoretical reframing of profit to evaluating its efficacy in praxis has already become the moral imperative of our time.

